Randall's painting workshops are open to all levels of painting experience, but are geared to help experienced artists deepen their insights of the oil painting medium and further their understanding of the fundamentals of good picture-making. All workshops will include demonstrations, discussions on composition, value, color, and brushwork, with critiques and plenty of individual attention. Each student should be equipped with their own easel and painting supplies.

California based artist, Randall Sexton, is nationally known for the use of color and expressive brushwork in his oil paintings of “everyday” scenes. A “painters’ painter”, according to Jean Stern, (Executive Director -The Irvine Museum of Art. “Randall, one of the premier contemporary California landscape painters, also paints still-lives, figures, and portraits with equal mastery...His work evokes deep feelings, whether it’s the solitude of a deserted street at night or the exultation of a beautiful landscape, each speaks softly to the viewer.”

Raised in rural Connecticut, Sexton moved to San Francisco, CA in 1980 after completing a BFA from the University of CT, Storrs. The Bay area has proven to be home, where he has earned a great reputation for being an educator as well as a fine artist.
